

International Conference of the Veterinary Wound Healing Association London May 2nd and 3rd

From everyday wound care to advanced wound management

We have organized a very actual and interesting two-day programme: day 1 will focus on equine and day 2 on small animal wounds and both days will be interesting for any veterinarian. We will present and discuss challenges we all encounter in everyday veterinary practice, such as non-healing wounds, when things go wrong, prudent use of antibiotics during wound treatment and alternatives to reduce bacterial burden as well as biological and physical methods for wound treatment. Additionally we will present about complicated and extensive wounds, surgical solutions and emergency cases.

Program outline

Day 1 in collaboration with BEVA

Session 1 - Biological and physical methods for wound treatment

Session 2 - When things go wrong

Session 3 - Complicated wounds and research

Session 4 - The future: advanced wound care available for every horse

AGM VVWA: everyone is welcome

Day 2 supported by BSAVA

Session 1 - Research communications

Session 2 - Prudent use of antibiotics during wound treatment

Session 3 - Alternatives to reduce the use of antibiotics

Session 4 - Wound emergency

Abstracts are welcome, deadline 31st March

EWMA 2024

Further information at www.ewma/vwha

